PREAMBLE

The Alliance for European Flax-linen & Hemp (formerly the "European Confederation of Flax and Hemp" and hereinafter referred to as "the Alliance"), incorporated as an association, is the only European agro-industrial organization bringing together and federating all stages of Flax-Linen and Hemp production and processing.

It ensures the development and promotion of the European Flax-Linen and Hemp sector, particularly in the fashion, home and technical products sectors. It offers professionals and consumers a guarantee of traceability of origin for Flax fibre grown in Western Europe, in accordance with a specific standard and processes available at <https://allianceflaxlinenhemp.eu/en/masters-of-flax-fibre-certification>.

CELC DEVELOPPEMENT is a commercial company, wholly owned by the Alliance, whose main purpose is to provide the Alliance with technical, administrative, marketing and commercial support to enable it to fulfil its mission. As such, the User's compliance with any conditions and processes established by CELC is a determining factor in the validity of this Agreement.

As part of this activity, the Alliance is the owner of the application for registration of the European Union trademark MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE No. 019099179 of 31 October 2024 (hereinafter the "Trademark").

The use of the Trademark by third parties is intended, in particular, to:

- To meet societal expectations in terms of transparency.
- To be identified by the end consumer by guaranteeing the origin and traceability of Western European Flax fibre.
- To certify traceability at every stage of production – from fibre to finished product – as a guarantee of transparency and safety.
- To confirm Flax as a natural plant fibre whose average technical cultivation and production process has been established in the western European regions of France, Belgium and the Netherlands.
- To be recognized as the common signature for the development and promotion of Flax within Europe and internationally.
- To be a brand with all textile and technical markets: a quality label for European Flax fibre that anticipates and supports the opening of new markets in fashion, lifestyle, home and technical applications.
- To promote and safeguard, in a single initiative, a regional origin and expertise that is the basis of this local agricultural excellence in a European and international context.
- To embody the functional and environmental properties of Western European Flax fibre through scientific evidence.

The Alliance wanted third parties who share these objectives of commitment to environmental, ethical, innovative and creative values for the cultivation and production of Western European Flax fibre to be individually authorized to use the Brand in order to promote it in their communications, both to the public and to their professional contacts in, as follows:

- For the Farming and Scutching stages, all European stakeholders have committed to complying with the requirements specified in the MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ Standard.
- For processors and traders, all European stakeholders have committed to complying with the commitments specified in the MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ Standard and are audited annually for each company by Bureau Veritas or another approved body.
- For Distributors purchasing finished products, all European stakeholders have committed to complying with the conditions of use of the trademark defined in this Trademark Use Authorization Agreement.

The Alliance has accredited the Bast Fiber Authority as a platform for identifying bast fibres using a standardized protocol; this observatory brings together laboratories authorized to implement this protocol in order to analyze the bast fibre composition of products worldwide. In this context, the Alliance will have the choice of which laboratory it wishes to use to carry out the analyses.

On the basis of all this information and these commitments, the User has expressed an interest in using the Trademark.

THEREFORE, THE PARTIES HAVE AGREED AS FOLLOWS:

Article 1¹ Purpose

By this Agreement, the Alliance grants the User a non-exclusive license to use the Trademark in all territories covered by the Trademark, subject to compliance with all the terms and conditions set out in this Agreement, including those contained in the Preamble and in the documents available on the website <https://allianceflaxlinenhemp.eu/en/masters-of-flax-fibre-certification>, which the User acknowledges, by signing this Agreement, to have read and understood, including the Annexes. This Agreement cancels and replaces all previous authorizations granted by the Alliance to the User for the use of the Trademark.

Article 2 Ownership of the Trademarks

The Trademark is the exclusive property of the Alliance. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as a transfer of ownership, in whole or in part, of the Trademark.

Article 3 Criteria for engagement

By affixing the Trademark, the User, who must necessarily be a certified company, undertakes to comply with the following criteria applicable to those of its products that are certified :

- Purchase invoices for certified materials from manufacturers or traders who are themselves certified must show the seller's certificate number, the fibre composition percentages of the products or materials, and the exact wording "MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ certified" clearly identifying the certified product(s) on the invoice.

As a transitional measure, the words "EUROPEAN FLAX™ certified", which correspond to the former name "MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ certified", may be used on invoices. This option will cease to be available on 31 December 2026 at the latest.

These references on the invoice are proof of the product's compliance with MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ requirements: made from 100% MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ certified Flax materials and composed of at least 50% Flax. These requirements are set out in the MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ Standard, available at <https://allianceflaxlinenhemp.eu/en/masters-of-flax-fibre-certification>, and are audited annually by the certification body Bureau Veritas or any other approved body.

To further support the textile markets and raise the bar even higher in terms of the values of differentiation of origin and certification authentication, the Alliance is integrating digital traceability into the MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ certification, enabling the tracking of flows throughout the entire value chain, from fibre to finished products, thanks to the secure Flax-Linen Traceability Platform by TextileGenesis™ from the Lectra group.

In this context, verification of product certification on invoices will gradually be replaced by verification of information available only on the digital traceability platform, which integrates and controls all certification criteria using an artificial intelligence system.

After 15 March 2027, only materials and products certified according to the Flax-Linen Traceability Platform will be able to bear the Mark, in the forms specified in Article 4 below.

The User shall ensure that the materials and products on which the manufacturer affixes the Mark correspond to the products certified on the invoice or according to the platform.

- Accurate labelling of product composition

The User must ensure that the Trademark is only used for certified products or materials. The User may only use the Trademark in materials of any kind, such as catalogues or websites, if the products or materials presented in these materials are all fully certified. Otherwise, the User must clearly distinguish in the materials between products and materials that are certified and those that are not.

If necessary, the Alliance reserves the right to test the User's products, in accordance with the methodology approved by the Bast Fiber Authority and by one of the accredited laboratories (see presentation). These tests shall be carried out at the Alliance's expense.

Article 4 Procedure for applying to use the Mark and validation

The validity of this Agreement is subject to the prior certification of the User.

After validation by the Alliance, the User shall receive:

- The "MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ Graphic Charter", which defines the terms and conditions for reproducing the Trademark.
- The digital files of the Trademark.
- This Trademark Use Authorization Agreement signed by the Alliance, which defines the media

Article 2 TUR Respect for values

For any other use, the User must submit a request to the Alliance and obtain its prior approval.

For each of these uses, and in particular at points of sale, MASTERS OF FLAX FIBRE™ certified products and non-certified products must be separated and clearly identified so that certified products can be easily distinguished from non-certified products.

The Alliance is not responsible for producing the materials, but may assist the User in producing them upon request.

The Alliance may ask the User for copies of the materials on which the Trademark is or will be used.

Article 6 TUR Validation
